

The Centre for Advanced Studies in Humanities and Social Sciences/ Kolleg-Forschungsgruppe "Religion and Urbanity: Reciprocal Formations" (FOR 2779) currently invites applications for Research Fellowships (3-6 months)

In the period of 01.10.2024 to 30.09.2025

Religion and Urbanity

The research group "Religion and Urbanity" (FOR 2779) investigates the co-constitution and co-evolution of urban and religious life, actors, institutions and imaginaries in its historical depth for cities in Europe, the Mediterranean and South Asia, from the first millennium BCE onwards. Fellowships are awarded to scholars working in the Humanities, especially in the fields of History, History of Religion or in the fields of Sociology and Urban Studies with a focus on historical and religious developments in the pre-modern era especially. During the second funding phase, the group will focus on processes of 'group formation and segmentation', 'mercantilisation' and 'boundary demarcation'.

The research group "Religion and Urbanity" is financed by the German Research Foundation (FOR 2779). Its spokespeople are Prof. Dr. Susanne Rau and Prof. Dr. Jörg Rüpke. The group is hosted by the Max Weber Kolleg, an Institute for Advanced Studies at the University of Erfurt which hosts several interdisciplinary research groups under the umbrella of its Weberian research programme.

You can find more information on the "Religion and Urbanity" website and the UrbRel blog. Research results are continuously published on the open access platform "Religion and Urbanity Online".

We will provide fellows with office space including work facilities. Working languages are English and German. The fellowships start either on 1 April or 1 September/ 1 October (beginning of the teaching terms at Erfurt University). Fellowships are usually awarded for a duration of 3 to 6 months. Financial arrangements take the individual situation of the awardees of the fellowships into account and are based on the principle "no loss, no gain" (e.g., covering of additional costs, compensating salary reductions or payment for replacement teaching). Fellows are expected to reside in Erfurt.

Eligibility

To be eligible for a fellowship, candidates must propose a research project to be conducted in Erfurt within the "Religion and Urbanity" framework and have an outstanding academic record, at least one published monograph and a minimum of three years of postdoc research experience. Fellows are required to participate actively in the interdisciplinary and intercultural life of the Centre and to contribute to the weekly "Religion and Urbanity" colloquia.

The University of Erfurt is an equal opportunities employer in compliance with the Thuringian Equal Opportunities Act (Thüringer Gleichstellungsgesetz). It is committed to the values of diversity and gender equality. It has been audited as a “family-friendly university” and has received the rating “Equality excellent” for its programme supporting female professors. Increasing the proportion of women in research and teaching is one of the university's strategic goals; qualified female academics are therefore expressly encouraged to apply. Handicapped candidates are treated preferentially in the case of equal suitability, professional performance and qualification.

The University of Erfurt seeks to actively promote the compatibility of families and careers, offering flexible working hours and further training opportunities as well as a range of health and prevention offers as part of the company health management.

The University of Erfurt does not cover any costs incurred by the application.
